Dear Madam Secretary:

1TV.COM, Inc., licensee of the above-reference station advises as follow:

The directional antenna associated with the above-referenced application has sustained ice damage to the extent that some antenna elements are now malformed. In consultation with its broadcast engineering consultants, the licensee is advised that from observation it would appear that system is in compliance with permissible operating parameters.

Out of an abundance of caution, the licensee has called the manufacturer and the licensee is in the process of ordering replacement parts to repair the malformed antenna elements.

Please address any questions concerning this matter to the undersigned.

Sincerely yours,

John S. Neely, Esq.
